Dear Jerry,

A hasty note to tell you I have to be in NYC for a meeting with a small publisher for lunch the 22nd. I'll probably come up the day before. I write for several reasons:

If possible, I'll probably want to stay with you, especially if I am to be up late the 21st. This would also provide the opportunity for doing a show. I believe there are several you thought I should try and do.

You may not have heard from Gary. He has been hitting the books hard and taking his prelims. Today he was scheduled to leave for Dallas. But if you haven't, do not worry about it, for you'll get the film.

Hastily,
